We need help with donations of baking and prizes.

For the children's table we would appreciate donations of nearly new toys and children's books in good to excellent condition. Please – no "white elephant" items.

We would also like to have lots of crafts for our craft table: knitting, crocheting, sewing, making candles, cards and just about any other craft you can think of.

We also need prizes for our tombola and the draws – new items only, or gift certificates.

If you can help with any of this it would be greatly appreciated. Thank you in advance!

Good Tenants

Dear friends: Why did Jesus' story about wicked tenants cause offense to the scribes and Pharisees? It contained both a prophetic message and a warning.

This parable speaks to us today as well. It richly conveys some important truths about God and the way He deals with His people. First, it tells us of God's generosity and trust. The vineyard is well equipped with everything the tenants need. The owner went away and left the vineyard in the hands of the tenants. God likewise trusts us enough to give us freedom to run life as we choose. Secondly this parable also tells us of God's patience and justice. Not once, but many times He forgives the tenants their debts. But, while the tenants take advantage of the owner's patience, His judgment and justice prevail in the end. As the parable invites us to be faithful and responsible to our daily duties as followers of Jesus.
